

Principal Investigator positions of Botany open in Shanghai, China
(March 1, 2010)

Shanghai Chenshan Plant Scientific Research Center (SCPSRC), Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS), located in Chenshan Botanical Garden in Songjiang District, Shanghai, was established jointly by the Chinese Academy of Sciences and Shanghai Government, SCPSRC is a Non-profit Organization mainly engaged in the plant science research and the ecological environment research.

SCPSRC is seeking outstanding Principal Investigators in the area of including but not limited to: plant introduction and domestication, plant conservation biology, plant stress biology, plant evolutionary biology, plant comparative genomics, plant biodiversity and biotechnology, bio-energy botany research, medicinal botany, plant pest and disease control etc.

Qualified candidates must have a Ph.D. or equivalent graduate degree, with outstanding academic credentials, 4-5 years of postdoctoral training experiences. The successful candidate will be provided with a competitive start-up package and is expected to develop a strong research program in addition to excellent leadership to SCPSRC. Attractive salary and other personal benefits are available.

Interested applicants should forward application letter, curriculum vitae, a brief description of research interests, a publication list, reprints of 5 selected papers published in the last 5 years, 3 reference letters, a copy of Ph. D diploma and other relevant certificates before May. 31th of 2010 to:

Dr. Jinshuang Ma, Shanghai Institutes for Biological Sciences, Chinese Academy of Sciences, 320 YueYang Road, Shanghai, 200031, China; Fax: 0086-21-54920078, E-mail: majinshuang@sibs.ac.cn.

For more information in Chinese, please visit www.cas.ac.cn, www.sibs.ac.cn, www.sh1111.gov.cn, or contact Dr. Ma by email, and thank you.